ARPC Gun & Sportsman Show September 22 & 23, 2018-Recap

ARPC had a GREAT show! Typical for a September show, we had 2906 attendees through the door. Our member volunteers make this show a success. THANKS TO ALL OF YOU who filled security positions, assisted vendors and volunteers, recruited new members, took money, stamped hands and checked firearms in and out of the show! Please plan on seeing your work bond hours reflected within the next two weeks as we finalize the show.

ARPC Shooting Sports is Gearing Up!

ARPC 4-H Shooting Sports year is starting this October. A total of six 4-H clubs from Linn and Marion county 4-H programs will be using the range for their meetings to practice small bore rifle, shotgun and pistol. Over 50 youth will participate and learn firearm safety, gain life skills and work to gain an invitation to the 4-H Shooting Sports State Contest held at ARPC in June. It has been exciting to see so much interest from youth in shooting sports and so many adults volunteering to allow it to grow.

Stay tuned for more information on 4-H shooting sports and ARPC's role in 4-H youth development. There will be a short presentation about ARPC 4-H shooting sports at the annual board meeting in November. I hope you can attend to learn more of how ARPC is promoting shooting sports to the next generation of gun owners and range members.

Sincerely,
Ben Lalonde, ARPC 4-H Shooting Sports Discipline Director

Not a RATTLESNAKE

The bullsnake (Pituophis catenifer sayi) is a large non-venomous colubrid snake. It is currently considered a subspecies of the gopher snake (Pituophis catenifer).

When bullsnakes detect live objects too big to be prey they seem to perceive the object as a predator and take defensive action. Their first action is to remain quiet, not moving. Then when they feel they are able to move away from the object, their next line of defensive is to move away as quickly as possible. Bullsnares, however, are not fast movers and often have to take other defensive actions. When threatened by anything as large as a human, a bullsnake's next defensive action is to rear up and make itself look as large as possible, sometimes in a coiled posture, while at the same time hissing at the perceived threat. It typically then begins lunging and retreating at the same time to escape. Due to this action, their dorsal pattern, coloration, and "bad attitude", they are sometimes mistaken for rattlesnakes.

The snake adapts easily and lives in areas where the rodents they typically feed on live abundantly, such as grasslands and agricultural areas like grain fields. Please leave them alone and let them do their job of rodent control around the range.

ARPC Executive Board Openings

The ARPC Annual Meeting on Tuesday, November 27th, is quickly approaching, and there are three Board positions open for election: President, Vice President, and Treasurer. Board positions serve two-year terms. These positions are open to all members in good standing. As you are probably aware, ARPC has grown significantly over the last ten years. Our future depends on the decisions made by the Board as well as our employees. The time required to be an active and involved Board member varies from month to month. Ten to thirty hours per month would be a fair estimate. The ability to attend a monthly meeting every 2nd Tuesday evening, as well as any special meetings, is critical. 8228 We all joined ARPC so we would have a place to shoot. It takes people who care to make sure ARPC will be here for our children and grandchildren. If the idea of running for a Board position intrigues you, please contact Brian Boesch at rm@arpc.info. Remember our wonderful facility doesn't exist without dedicated Board members directing our future!

Club Officer Elections
Ben LaLonde For ARPC Vice President

Dear ARPC Members,

My name is Ben Lalonde and I am currently the discipline director for ARPC 4-H Shooting Sports. I am running for the ARPC Executive Board Vice President position. In the past few years, I have served the club as a discipline director, assisted in club events and helped to grow the youth shooting program. I would like to advance my service to the club by supporting the operation and growth of ARPC through this board position.

I initially became a member of ARPC to have a range I could access anytime. Having range facilities available to members and their guests is important to me and most of you. Eventually, I started participating in the USPSA and Speed Steel shooting disciplines. The disciplines were a place I could shoot with other members, provided training and promoted the club. This led me to become the Speed Steel Discipline director for two years and a volunteer for USPSA and GSSF matches. Last year, multiple Linn County 4-H clubs sought to use ARPC's facilities. I worked with the ARPC Board, Carol Fitzmorris and Brian Boesch to coordinate multiple 4-H clubs into the ARPC 4-H Shooting Sports discipline. The result of this work has expanded how many youth are learning safety, life skills and lifelong recreation at ARPC. It also expanded my volunteering to 4-H Shooting Sports as a State Superintendent for pistol. In that role, I serve on the Shooting Sports Development Committee and work with other superintendents to plan and facilitate the 4-H Shooting Sports State Contest.

The Board Vice President position is responsible to oversee the disciplines. It also, like the other board positions, is responsible for control and direction of our club. I encourage you to come to the November meeting to cast your vote. If you feel my dedication, abilities and knowledge are a good fit for the Vice President Board position, please vote for me on November 27 at the Annual Meeting.

Sincerely,
Ben Lalonde

Halloween Zombie Apocalypse - October 20?!

People have talked about the Zombie Apocalypse but the Full-Auto Discipline has all you need to solve it. Plan on meeting them on Saturday, October 20th starting at 10AM for the most elaborate match stage of the year. We don't prep for the ZA, we simulate it. And as part of the group's strict diversity policy, all members of Halloween - werewolves, vampires, ghosts etc. - are also represented. You do not have to own full-auto firearms. Pistol Caliber Carbines (PCP) are welcome in the semi-auto class. This month consists of steel, reactive targets, spinners, poppers, splatter packs and other special targets. For PCP bring 150-200 rounds.

Suppressor Owners Wanted!

If you own a suppressor, the Full Auto group wants you to bring it to our monthly shoot. As NFA firearms owners already, we would like to see - and not hear - the various suppressors that have become more common at the range. 19857 Email the directors, either Mike at mmyhrvold@yahoo.com or Adrian at avlor@proaxis.com and we can pair you up with an 'exotic' host weapon if interested.

Building a Digital Defense With The FBI's Safe Online Surfing (SOS) Program

Kids are starting to settle back into the school routine, and, as they do, many of them are carrying phones with them to class. They are also spending more and more time online for legitimate reasons – whether it is for typing exercises, research for a speech or practicing math. While technology is an awesome tool for educators, there are steps that you can take to set your child up to be both successful and safe online. To that end, the FBI has developed a computer literacy program called “Safe Online Surfing” or “SOS”. Teachers and administrators can utilize this program in the school setting – or parents can use it one-on-one with their children at home. The Safe Online Surfing program includes age-specific materials for grades three through eight, and it is now also available in Spanish. This program is completely free for you to use.

SOS is a series of 3rd through 8th grade-appropriate online games that allow your child to have fun while learning some important lessons. The student will explore what good online etiquette looks like, how to manage cyber bullies, and how good passwords and double authentication help keep them safe. They will learn about what they should do before downloading that new app or game onto their phone – and how to screen friend requests in a responsible way. And, they will also be able to investigate the dangers of plagiarism and privacy violations.

Here are some helpful tips for parents, as well:

- Talk to your kids about what kinds of information, photos and videos are appropriate to share – and what's not. Remind them that even sending one picture to a friend can lead to an entire school seeing what might be a child's most embarrassing moment.
- Teach your kids how to limit the information they put online. They shouldn't be posting their full name, date of birth and school information on social media platforms or give it to third party vendors.
- Train your kids that free software, apps and downloads may sound great – but in some cases they can be illegal. In other cases, you are opening up your phone and computer to potential malware attacks.

If you are a parent or educator interested in learning more about the Safe Online Surfing program – go to sos.fbi.gov.

Hunter Sight-In Days Recap

Our September 2018, Hunter Sight-In Days assisted 188 shooters with 236 rifles to make sure that their shot would hit its mark. This is an important public service that we have provided at ARPC for decades; doing our part to insure the responsible harvest of our animal resources. We want to give a BIG THANKS to our member volunteers who assisted hunters and checked people into our Main Range and our members who were so patient during that time.
