COVID-19 UPDATE

Life at ARPC is slowly returning to normal but we have a ways to go. We are back in the office and the Pro Shop and we are open 10 to 5 Monday thru Saturday. Please only one person in the Pro Shop at a time. We have primers, powder and bullets in stock. We have daily limits and are reordering as product becomes available. All popular reloading components are very hard to obtain so expect shortages. We are opening up our Discipline Events with social distancing guidelines. Please be patient with your fellow members as we all adjust through the summer and remember the social distancing guidelines while visiting the range.

Are You Missing Something?

We all forget to double check that we have all our possessions before leaving the range once in a while. Lately some items have been left that we are sure you would like back. Please go through your safes and other storage areas and check for missing items. Send an email to office@arpc.info describing your property and we will check our collection for a match. Items that are not claimed will be sold and the proceeds will go to our Junior Programs.

Foxy New Members!

A family of foxes has built a den under the North end of the 50 yard berm. There is a mom and six kits. Please remember that all animals are protected on ARPC property. If they are interrupting your practice, please make the range cold, walk down range and chase them off. They will go underground and should stay out of sight until the range quiets down. We have deer, bobcats, snakes, skunks, racoons and other wildlife on our property. I have seen elk prints and have heard of cougar sightings in the area as well. The foxes are great mousers and you may see them on a visit to the main range. We have temporarily closed the three Northernmost shooting positions. The kits are getting bigger and should move to greener pastures soon. Please use the remaining benches as normal. Just be aware of what is beyond your target and enjoy seeing them if they are out. Thanks to one of our members, Morgan, for the great picture!

MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF INSTRUCTOR

Members ask: What do RSO's do, and how should I respond when approached by one?

Contrary to assumptions, RSO's are not part of our team to provide enforcement of the rules. They are members just like all of you. In one word, their goal is to educate. Many may be retired or have extra time and enjoy being around the shooting sports. They want to keep this range safe so that everyone who wishes to have a shooting opportunity may do so safely. As part of their commitment, many are certified in trauma and first aid training provided by ARPC. They agree to serve one 6 hour shift every quarter, and in return become exempt from the annual ARPC dues. At the end of each shift they make an online digital report of their time on the range, cataloging the most common infractions of the rules, writing a narrative, and if needed, completing an incident report. All reports are directed to the Executive Director, Chief Instructor, and RSO Manager for review and action, if needed. By tracking data, we are meeting our mission to keep our range safe and addressing any issues quickly. All RSO's are further instructed to de-escalate any confrontations, refer any problems to the executive director, and to always identify themselves and provide their name to any member wishing to know their identity. We have found that almost all of the infractions result from the lack of knowing the rules of gun safety and our range. The vast majority of members are appreciative of our RSO's giving their efforts to help our club. At times, conflict may arise, and if that occurs, the XD, CI, and RSO manager will investigate and resolve any issue. Any member who has experienced a negative interaction with an RSO should feel free to contact us, as we understand that most issues have two sides. The RSO's are instructed to tour the club and visit all shooting sites, but to not interfere with anyone enjoying the safe use of firearms. Say hello to them, thank them for their dedication, and get to know them. They provide the best way we know to allow us to keep everyone happily shooting! We still have a few RSO positions open if anyone would like to join us. Just let any of us know and we can get the process started.

3D Range Update

The 3D Range is open for business! We had a great volunteer crew that mowed and trimmed the grass and bushes. They then placed the animals for your shooting pleasure. Everything is growing at a fast pace so if you see something that needs trimming please let us know.
